

Additional Resources

NC WiseOwl

- NC WiseOwl (NC Online Windows for Learning) provides online subscription resources for K-12 public and charter school to ensure that all students have access to a collection of online resources for use in research projects and homework assignments, without regard to the economic status of their local school system.

Looking for Technology Integration (LoFTI)

- LoFTI is a classroom observation tool used to gauge technology integration.

Information Technology Toolkit

- Livebinder

North Carolina Intel Teach

- North Carolina's Intel Teach is a research-based professional development program for teachers, curriculum supervisors and administrators provided through a grant from the Intel Foundation. Online tools and an professional learning community support the implementation of this project-based instructional program.

Thinkfinity

- Thinkfinity is a web portal supported by the Verizon Foundation. Through this web portal educators, parents, and students are provided access to an online community, interactive web content, reviewed websites, and lesson plans provided at no cost. The resources are aligned with North Carolina's Essential Standards, the Common Core State Standards and voluntary curriculum organizations standards.

Instructional Technology Division Web Site

- The Instructional Technology Division web site includes news, Standards, Technology Planning, Contact Information for staff, and other resources.

Higher Education Partnerships

- Professional Development provided by the Friday Institute for Educational Innovation
- LEARN NC includes both classroom resources and professional development for K–12 teaching and learning and is provided by the University of North Carolina School of Education.